Coyote Peak Interpretive Sign Dedication Event

Pueblo Day Use Area in Santa Teresa Park

10 am

October 25, 2014

Mark your calendar for a spectacular FOSTP and SCCPR event, to dedicate a panoramic view sign of the Santa Clara Valley on top of Coyote Peak in Santa Teresa Park.

On October 25, 2014 the main ceremonies will be held at the Pueblo Day Use Area in Santa Teresa Park, starting at 10 a.m.

The event will then move to the top of Coyote Peak, where the unveiling ceremony for the new sign will take place between 11 am and 11:30 am.

Participants will be allowed to park free, and no admission will be charged. Also, a free van shuttle transportation to the top of Coyote Peak and back will be available for the event. The public will be encouraged to hike or ride one of the County Parks' interpretive vans to the top of the peak.

Directions: Follow event signs on Bernal Road west to the entrance to Santa Teresa Park and turn left at the first road at the top towards the restrooms. Bring your cameras and telephoto lenses to capture photos of far distant landmarks of the bay area.
